Birth Chart Calculation

The birth chart has 12 houses, each assigned to a zodiac sign. Each house is in the 30° range, covering 360° - a complete circle. 30 degrees is divided into 5 states that define the nature or effect of the planet within each house,

For Odd houses/signs – Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra, Sagi, and Aquarius –the avasthas are,

0-6 degrees-Bala Avastha : Infancy state, planet gives minimal results.

6-12 degrees - kumara avastha: Adolescence state, planet imparts half of its full potential.

12-18 degrees- yuva avastha : Adult state, bestows full-on effect in native's life.

18-24 degrees- vriddha avastha: mature state, imparts moderate effects.

24-30 degrees - mrit avastha : Old aged state, gives minimal effects.

The order of the avasthas are reversed for Even houses/signs – Taurus, Cancer, Virgo, Scorpio, Capricorn & Pisces.

The important thing to note is that the planets in the border degrees, i.e., 29, 0 and 1 degrees become very strong irrespective of their avastha in the house.

When beneficial planets are placed in good avastha, they bestow best benefits on the native and vice versa when malefic planets are placed.

To calculate the degree in each house, deduct the closest multiple of 30s from the degree in which the planet was placed at the time of birth. Example- If Sun is placed at $156^{\circ} 58'$ = $156 - (30 \times 5) = 6^{\circ} 58'$ it falls in Kumara Avastha.

Here is a table on houses, degree range and the corresponding zodiac,

Sign	-	Degree

D2 Chart Calculation

Various sastras like Brihat Parashara Hora Sastra, Brihat Jataka, Saravali, and Phaldeepika have unanimously formulated a similar Hora Chart calculation. In this chart, the 30-degree sign is divided into two horas of 15 degrees each. So, a Hora means half a sign. It represents the day and night cycles- the Sun and Moon horas. There are about a total of $12 * 2 = 24$ horas for all signs.

On the D2 chart, Sun's hora is translated as Leo sign and Moon's area as Cancer sign. This means a sign has two hora signs only- Leo and Cancer. D2 hora chart calculation is based on the nature of the sign. A planet is posited in a natal chart.

The first half (0- 15°) of an odd sign is ruled by Sun Hora and the second half (15°-30°) by Moon Hora

It is reversed for even signs, i.e., the first half is ruled by Moon's hora and the second half by Sun's hora.

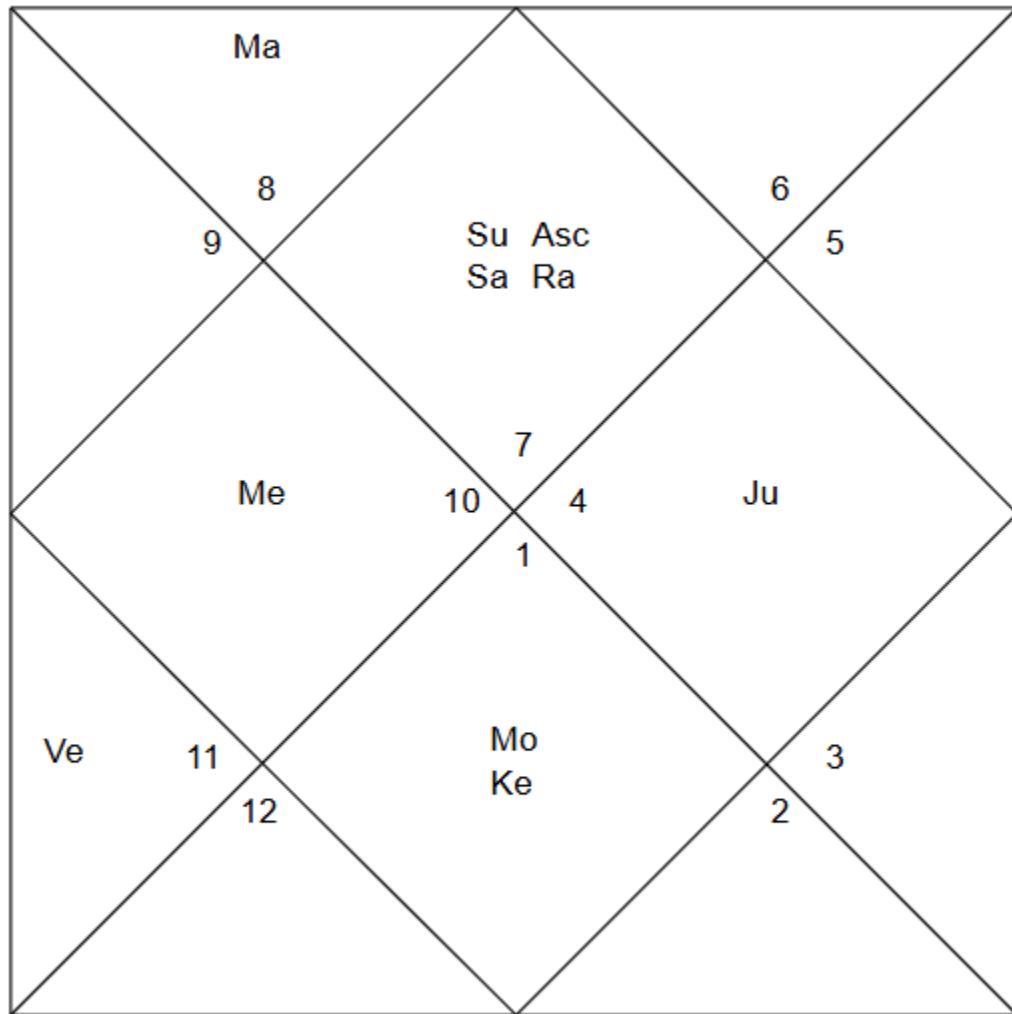

Here is a table for clarity,

Deity	Hora	Odd signs- Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra, Sagittarius and Aquarius	Even signs-Taurus, Cancer, Virgo, Scorpio, Capricorn, Pisces
Gods/Devas	0° - 15°	Leo (Ruled by Sun)	Cancer (Ruled by Moon)
Ancestors/Pitru	15° - 30°	Cancer (Ruled by Moon)	Leo (Ruled by Sun)

Calculation

Parashara Drekkana Chart is widely used in Vedic astrology due to its detailed representation of various aspects of life. According to Sage Parashara, Planets in the first 10° sign are positioned in the drekkana chart in the same sign. Planets in the middle 10° of the sign are placed in the 5th drekkana chart from the sign. Lastly, the planets in the last 10° of a sign are placed in the 9th drekkana chart from the sign. Three sages rule these 1st, 2nd, 3rd drekkanas, and they denote varying attributes of soul, mind, and five senses.

1st drekkana- this is represented by Sage Naradha; He is known for sheer devotion, nature of the soul is denoted by this house. Planets in the Drekkanas ruled by Sage Naradha denote the spiritual and karmic patterns of the native and its relation to the siblings.

5th drekkana - Sage Agastya is a powerful Saptarshi with immense knowledge and intellect. This house represents the mind. This signifies the mental and psychological aspects of the native.

9th drekkana - Sage Durvasa is known for his prowess in managing the five senses. This house represents the senses and five sensory organs of an individual. The sensual and physical comforts of the native is learnt from this house.

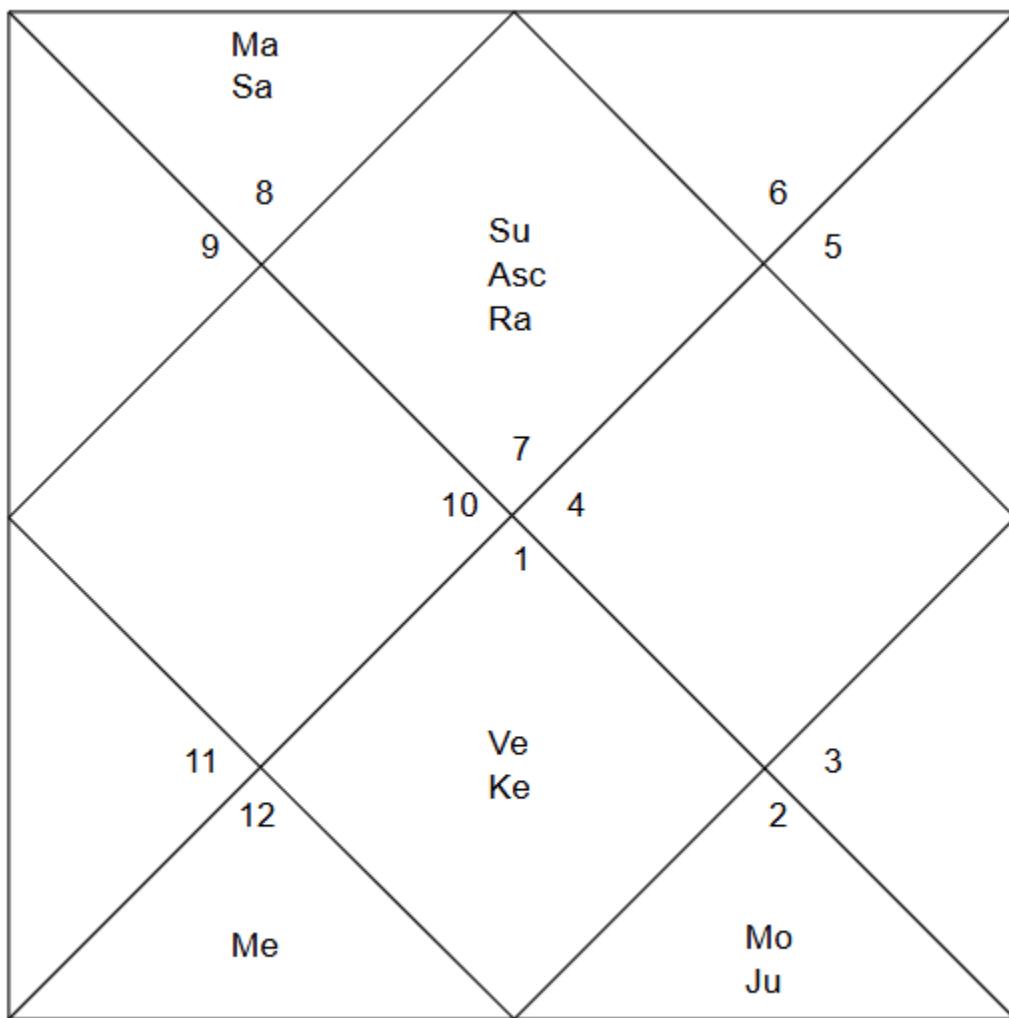

For example, in a natal chart, planets Mercury, Jupiter, and Venus are together in Gemini. Mercury is at 4°. Jupiter is at 17°. Venus is at 23°.

Mercury is in the first at 4° (0°-10°), Jupiter is in the middle at 17° (10°-20°), and Venus is in the last at 23° (20°-30°). Mercury is placed in Gemini in the drekkana chart; Jupiter is placed in Libra (5th from Gemini) in the drekkana chart; Venus is placed in Aquarius (9th from Gemini) in the drekkana chart.

Calculation

D4 chart divides each sign or Rashi into four units of 7 degrees 30minutes.

Chaturthamsa chart is a magnified version of the fourth house of the natal chart(D1).

Planets that fall in the first Chaturthamsa occupy the same sign. Planets that range in the 2nd division occupy the 4th house from the sign. Planets that fall in the 3rd division are placed in the 7th house from the sign and lastly, the planets in the 4th division are placed in the 10th house from the sign where the planet is placed. These houses are ruled by sages Sanaka, Sanandana, Sanatkumar, and Sanatana in the order.

0° to $7^\circ 30'$ = 1st Chaturtamsa of a sign. $7^\circ 30'$ to 15° = 2nd Chaturtamsa of a sign.
 15° to $22^\circ 30'$ = 3rd Chaturtamsa of a sign. $22^\circ 30'$ to 30° = 4th Chaturthamsa of a sign.

For example:

In a natal chart, if planets Sun at 5° , Jupiter at $11^\circ 33'$ Moon at $20^\circ 12'$ and Venus at $26^\circ 9'$ are placed together in Cancer

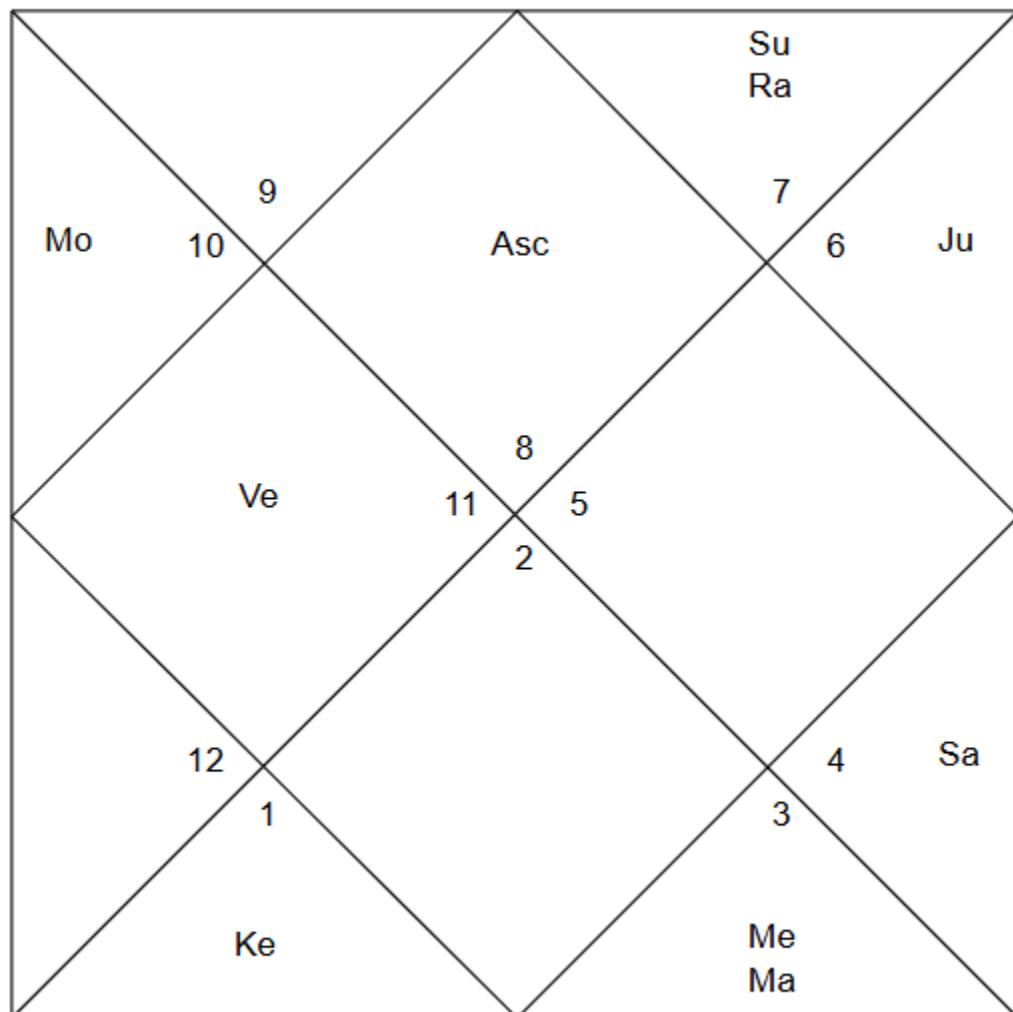

1. In the chart, Sun will remain in the same sign in chaturthamsa chart because its in the first part of chaturthamsa.
2. Jupiter in the second chaturthamsa will be placed in Libra (fourth house from Cancer)
3. Moon in the third chaturthamsa, will be placed in Capricorn(seventh house from Cancer)

4. Venus is in the fourth chaturthamsa, so that Venus will be placed in Aries (tenth from Cancer)

Calculation

D7- Saptamsa chart is an extension of the 5th house of the natal chart. D7 divides each sign into 7 equal parts called Saptamsa. So, there are about 84 Saptamsa for all 12 signs.

$$\text{Saptamsa} = 30^\circ / 7 = 4^\circ 17' 8.5''$$

Saptamsa Degrees

First	0° to 4°17'8.5"
Second	4°17'8.57" to 8°34'17.14"
Third	8°34'17.14" to 12°51'25.71"
Fourth	12°51'25.71" to 17°8'34.28"
Fifth	17°8'34.28" to 21°25'42.85"
Sixth	21°25'42.85" to 25°42'51.42"
Seventh	25°42'51.42" to 30°

*Units: degree, minutes, seconds, and microseconds

Planets falling in the first Saptamsa remain in the same sign, and planets in other Saptamsas move based on the Saptamsa number. For instance, the Third Saptamsa of Gemini goes to the third sign from Gemini, Leo.

There are two significant rules set in calculating the D7 chart based on the nature of the sign the planet is posited,

- 1)If a planet is positioned in an odd sign, then movement/counting commences in the same sign.
- 2)If a planet is positioned in an Even sign, then movement count commences from the seventh sign from that sign.

Purpose of the Saptamsa Chart

D7 chart spells out Dashas and its effects on all 12 Bhavas in the most straightforward way.

Nature of the Progeny, their wellbeing, behavior, gender, number of children can be interpreted from this D7chart.

Example: child prodigies or birth of children with physical or mental disabilities.

The karmic influences from the native's children on their life- both luck and misfortunes are represented in this chart.

The number of children, grandchildren, abilities, health, inclinations, and achievements can be seen through the D7 chart.

The due date/ week of Childbirth can be predicted during the gestation period based on the Sun's transit in the D7 chart.

Love affairs, progeny through such relationships can be predicted;

Children from non-procreative ways: Surrogacy, Adoptions, or marrying a widowed person with a child can be analyzed through this chart.

Challenges with progeny, delayed progeny can be foreseen.

Interpretation

Let's see how to apply the rules to calculate a Saptamsa chart.

For example:

Look at these planetary positions.

Ascendant- Leo at 13 34', Sun at 6 22 & Jupiter at 27 44 in Virgo sign, Moon at 9 27' in Gemini, Venus at 19 33' in Pisces, and Mars at 2 39' in Taurus signs.

Here's how the planets will be placed,

Ascendant is in the fourth Saptamsa of Leo, which is an odd sign. In this case, the D7 ascendant moves to the fourth from Leo- Scorpio sign.

Planet Sun is in the second Saptamsa of Virgo- an even sign; so, movement should be calculated from the 7th sign from Virgo, which is Pisces. The Sun will be placed in Aries, which is the second sign Pisces.

Jupiter is in the Seventh Saptamsa of Virgo. Virgo is an even sign. Jupiter moves to the seventh sign from Pisces, which is Virgo.

Moon is in third Saptamsa of Gemini- an odd sign. Therefore, Sun will be placed in the third sign from Gemini, Leo sign.

Venus is in fifth Saptamsa of Pisces- an even sign. So, Venus will occupy the fifth sign from Virgo, which is Capricorn.

Mars is in first Saptamsa of Taurus- an even sign. Mars will be placed in the first sign from the 7th sign of Taurus, Scorpio.

Common Inferences on D7

The pattern varies based on the gender of the native. There are different formulas to calculate the chart.

Ascendant shows the promise of progeny. The Dasha or Antar Dasha of the ascendant lord of the planets in ascendant can highly influence progeny. The offspring's physical stature, complexion, and mental health can be indicated. Beneficial planets in Lagna will result in lucky, successful children.

If the ascendant is aspected by benefic planets in odd sign, the native enjoys comfort from male children, and if its an even sign, the female child remains a source of happiness to the native.

If the lords of 5th or 11th houses occupy barren signs (Aries, Gemini, Leo, and Virgo) and if the ascendant falls in any of these barren sign's houses, then the native will not have progeny.

Venus denotes the essence of life and genetic composition that a child inherits. It plays a significant role in deciding the health and nature of the child. Strong Venus shows healthy, talented, and intelligent children. Weak or poor Venus indicates genetic defects in children.

Childbirth may be delayed if the Lagna lord receives malefic aspects from any malefic planets.

If the Ascendant Lord, 5th, and 7th Lords are powerful, Jupiter, Moon, or lord of the Moon's sign are beneficial. The native will be blessed with genius kids.

If beneficial planets like Jupiter, Venus occupy 5th or 11th houses, Moon indicates promising results.

If Rahu and Mars's aspect occupies the 5th or 11th houses, it indicates no children or deaths through serpent attack or poison.

Jupiter is the Primary Karka of children. He is a favorable planet for children and their legacy.

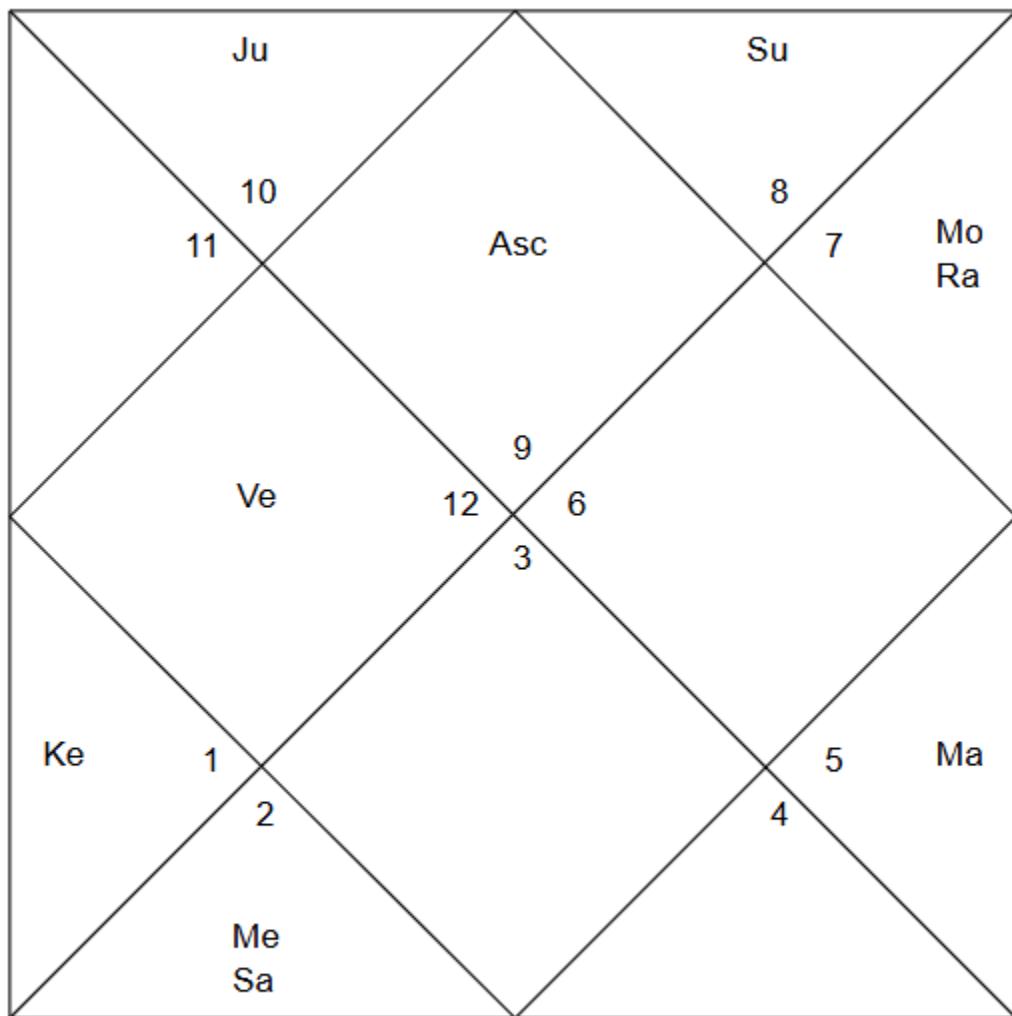

Saturn in the 5th house with Rahu in 4th or 12th conjunct with malefic (Mars and Ketu) brings inauspicious results.

Saturn is the weakest planet in this chart. If Saturn in the 5th house is associated with a weak Jupiter, Mercury's aspect indicates the loss of children.

The Role of Navamsa in Relationships and Inner Life

The Navamsa chart gives insight into the native's inner world, while the birth chart reflects the outer world. Planetary positions in the Navamsa chart enhance or strengthen the planets in the birth chart, revealing their true strength. Even promising combinations (Raja Yoga) in the birth chart need validation through the Navamsa chart.

Techniques and Applications

Various techniques are applied in analyzing the Navamsa chart to delineate different life dimensions. Besides predicting marital relationships and dynamics, the Navamsa chart helps analyze an individual's nature, traits, and life purpose. Transits of significant planets like Jupiter, Saturn, Venus, and Mars in the 7th or 9th house of Navamsa indicate marriage or wedding ceremonies. Venus, the signifier of marriage, referred to as "Karako Bhava Nasha" in the Navamsa chart, can indicate potential disruptions or challenges in marriage.

Terms and Conditions in Navamsa Chart

Several terms are used in the study of the Navamsa chart, based on the types of planets and the houses they occupy:

Vargottama:

A planet occupying the same sign in both the birth chart and Navamsa chart, considered a strong influence.

Yogamsa:

A planet placed in a favorable sign or the 9th house in Navamsa.

Astamamsa:

A planet occupying the 8th house in Navamsa from its birth chart position.

Vikatamsa:

A planet exalted in the birth chart but debilitated in Navamsa.

Papamsa:

Planets occupying malefic houses in Navamsa.

Shubhamsa:

Planets occupying benefic houses in Navamsa.

Karakamsa:

The position of the Atmakaraka (planet with the highest degree in the birth chart) in the Navamsa chart.

Pushkaramsa:

A special amsa where the planet gains strength to bestow auspicious results.

Significance of Specific Navamsas

64th Navamsa:

Also known as Khara Navamsa; malefic planets transiting this Navamsa bring adverse results.

88th and 108th Navamsa:

Important for determining compatibility in marital relationships; the Moon should not fall into these Navamsas.

55th Navamsa:

Analyzed for Marriage Murutha; no malefic planet should occupy the 55th Navamsa from Lagna while fixing marriage muhurthas.

Key Points in D9 Chart Analysis

1. The Lagna lord of both the birth chart and D9 chart should be strongly placed.
2. Planets and Lagna should not be placed in 6/8 positions in both charts.
3. Exalted planets should not be debilitated in D9.
4. Planets should be in friendly, own, or exalted signs in D9.
5. Planets in the same sign in both charts become strong.
6. Venus should not be in the 7th house from D9 Lagna or get debilitated.
7. A good Jupiter position strengthens marital bonds in a female chart.

Navamsa and Marriage

The Navamsa chart aids in understanding luck, fortune, and marital life, including the nature of the spouse. It delves into the psychological and emotional well-being of the native, relationships, and marriage unions. The chart is crucial for studying soulmates, karmic bonds with the spouse, and spousal expectations, indicated by the Lagna (ascendant) of the chart.

Predicting Marriage Timings

Marriage timings can be more precisely predicted using the D9 chart and the planets transiting in Navamsa. Generally, the major or minor period of planets associated with the 7th house of the D9 chart are more likely to deliver marriage. Saturn and Jupiter's transits triggering the 7th house or its planets in the D9 chart can indicate marriage. Mars plays a role in determining the month of marriage, and the Moon's influence can help determine the marriage date.

Common Inferences on D9 or Navamsa Chart

Various concepts such as Vargottama, Pushkara Navamsa, and Rasi Tulya Navamsa are crucial for understanding the Navamsa (D9) chart in detail.

Understanding Vargottama

A planet occupying the same sign in both the natal chart (D1) and Navamsa chart is termed Vargottama. This alignment is highly beneficial, indicating immense strength and auspiciousness for the planet. Signs in the Navamsa chart form Vargottama as follows:

- The first Navamsa of a movable sign (0° to $3^{\circ}20'$).
- The fifth Navamsa of a fixed sign ($13^{\circ}20'$ to $16^{\circ}40'$).
- The ninth Navamsa of a dual sign ($26^{\circ}40'$ to $30^{\circ}00'$).

Seven planets in Vargottama Navamsas suggest a life of abundance, akin to that of a deity or a king, blessed with spiritual achievements and material luxuries. A native with the Ascendant and its lord in Vargottama enjoys a trouble-free and happy life.

Marital Aspects

The Navamsa chart profoundly influences marital life and spouse characteristics. The Ascendant in the D9 chart reflects the native's behavior in marriage. Beneficial aspects enhance commitment, empathy, and unconditional love for the spouse. Jupiter's position in the Navamsa determines the life partner in a woman's chart.

Significance of Planetary Positions

Darakaraka: The planet with the lowest degree in the D1 chart determines marital life qualities based on its placement in the D9 chart.

Atma Karaka: The planet with the highest degree in the D1 chart, if well-placed in the Rasi and Navamsa charts, signifies wealth and prosperity.

Maha Raja Yoga: Formed if the Atmakaraka or Putra Karaka is in the ascendant, 5th house, or own sign in the Navamsa chart, indicating significant success and fortune.

Other Considerations

- Strained parental relationships if Sun and Moon are together in one house of the Navamsa chart.
- Multiple marriages indicated by malefic planets in the 7th house of the D9 chart.

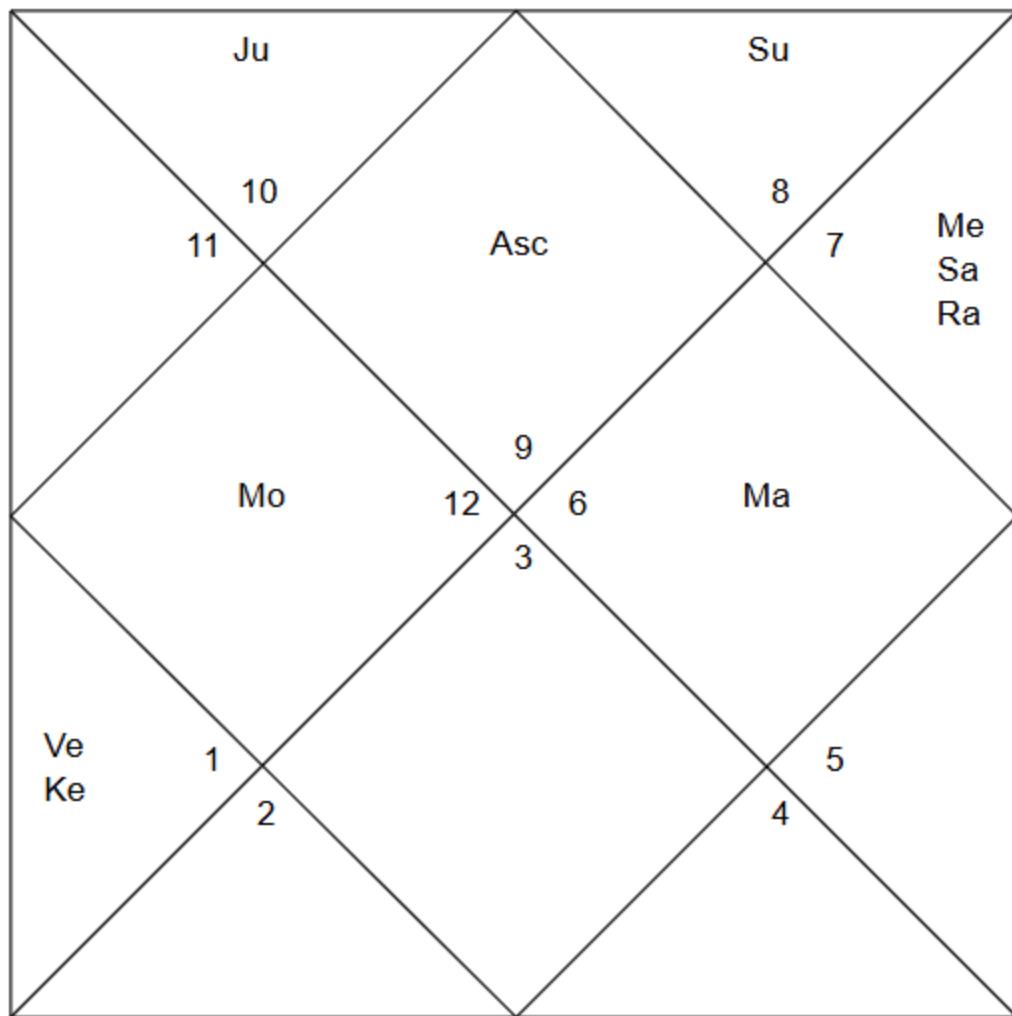

- Challenges in marriage if the lord of the ascendant in D9 falls in the 6th, 8th, or 12th houses.

Impact of the 64th Navamsa

The 64th Navamsa from the ascendant in the D9 chart is critical for marital life. Its placement in the 6th, 8th, or 12th houses, especially if conjunct with Saturn, Rahu, or Ketu, can lead to loss through tragic events.

Dwadasamsa chart Calculation

In D12 chart, each sign is divided into 12 parts of $2^\circ 30'$. Each unit is called Dwadasamsa; Dwadasa -12, amsa- unit. There are about 144units for all 12 signs.

$$1 \text{ Dwadasamsa} = 30^\circ / 12 = 2^\circ 30'.$$

The planet's longitude is noted accurately and the Dwadasamsa unit is mapped. D12 chart is created by positioning the planets based on the amsa. The chart counting will start from the same sign where the planet is placed in D1chart.

Example: Lagna is in Scorpio at 7° , Jupiter in Taurus at $28^\circ 47'$ and Sun is in Pisces at $21^\circ 14'$.

In D12 chart,

Lagna is in the 3rd amsa, so lagna is placed in Capricorn (3rd sign from Scorpio)

Jupiter is in 12th amsa, it is placed in Aries(12th sign from Taurus)

Sun is in 9th amsa, so it is placed in Scorpio (9th sign from Pisces)

Common interpretation on Dwadasamsa D12 Chart

Sun is the Karaka for Father, Moon is the karaka for Mother; Jupiter and Mercury are the karakas for Paternal and maternal grandparents. The position of these planets in the D12 chart determine the benefits a native can receive from the family.

If the ascendant is occupied by a benefic planet or if the lord of the ascendant occupies 2nd, 5th 9th or 11th houses, the native enjoys warmth and continued support from the family.

The reverse of the above i.e if the ascendant is occupied by a malefic planet or lord is exalted in those houses, the native is deprived of parental affection and grows to be a depressed child.

If Sun is well placed and strengthened by the presence of benefic planets or aspected by friendly planets, the native enjoys great paternal love and inheritance; also becomes a well learned scholar.

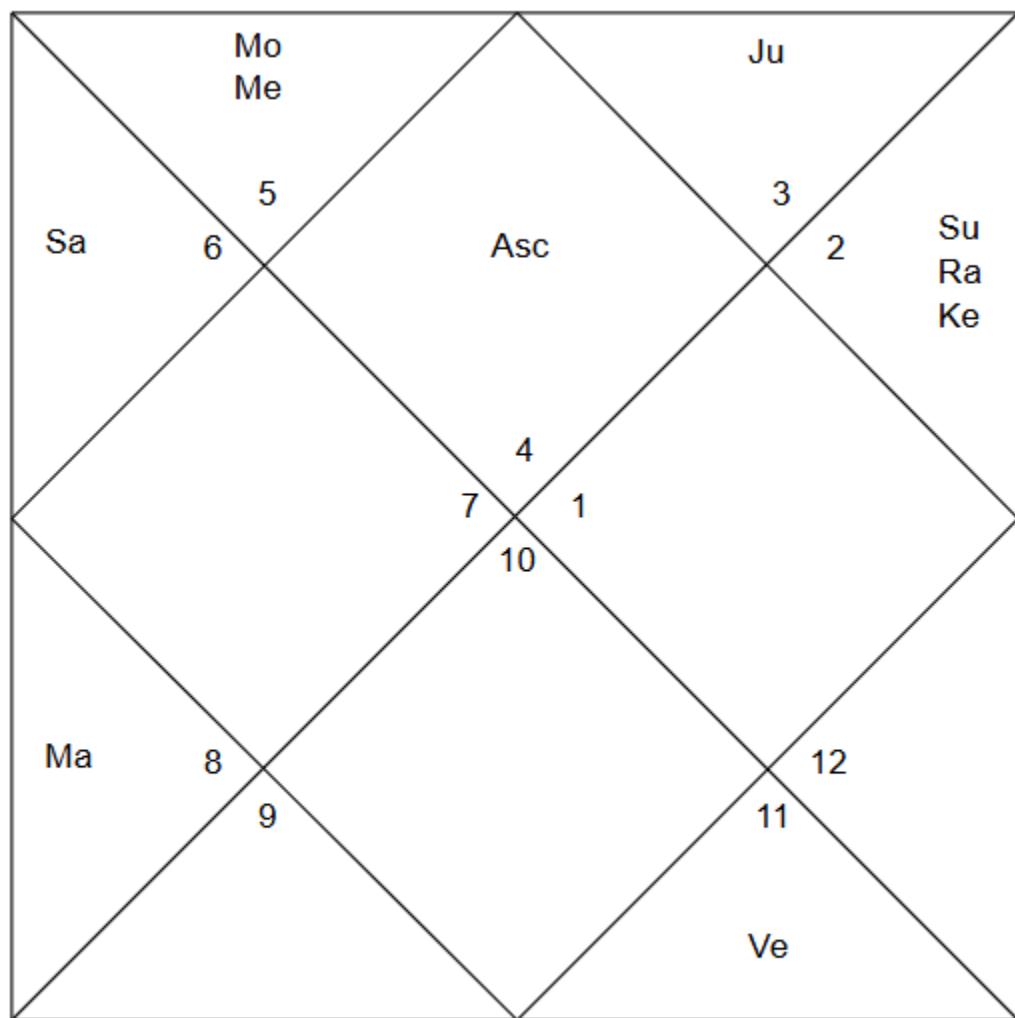

4th house denotes life span and nature of the father; 6th house denotes genetic inheritance from the parents (hereditary diseases) and 11th house represents the wealth gains from ancestors and elders of the family.

If 6th, 8th and 12th houses are occupied by malefic planets or debilitated, the native will not receive any support or love from the father. Native suffers a strained relationship as well.

Calculation

Each sign of 30° is divided into 40 parts of 0°45' each called Khavedamsa or Chatvarimshamsa.

D40 is created based on the nature of the sign a planet is placed in a natal chart.

- For odd signs, Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra, Sagittarius & Aquarius- counting begins from Aries
- even signs, Taurus, Cancer, Virgo, Scorpio & Capricorn & Pisces- counting begins from Libra.

To locate the correct house to place the planet.

Check which Khavedamsa the planet falls in. If it is between 13-24, subtract 12 from the Khavedamsa, and it will denote the sign where the planet will go. 21st Khavedamsa-(21-12=9) count 9houses from the sign.

If it's between 25-36, subtract 24 from the Khavedamsa, and it will denote the sign where the planet will go. 30th

Calculation

Each sign is divided into 45 parts of 0 degrees 40' each called Akshavedamsa. The whole zodiac system has about 540 Akshavedamsas.

D45 chart is created based on the nature of the sign a planet is placed in the natal chart,

- For movable signs, Aries, Cancer, Libra, Capricorn- count from Aries
- for fixed signs, Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, and Aquarius- count from Leo
- for dual signs, Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius, and Pisces- count from Sagittarius.

To locate the correct house to place the planet,

Check which Akshavedamsa the planet falls in. If it is between 13-24, subtract 12 from the number, and it will denote the sign where the planet will go. 21st Akshavedamsa -(21-12=9) count 9 houses from the sign.

If it's between 25-36, subtract 24 and 37-45, subtract 36, and it will denote the sign where the planet should go. 30th Akshavedamsa = (30-24= 6) count 6 houses from the sign.

Purpose of the AkshaVedamsa Chart

Patrilineal Karma can be seen in this chart. Both material and physical aspects of these karmic patterns in a native, inherited through the father and his ancestors, are available in the D45 chart.

The morality, character, ethical and religious values of a native is studied in D45.

This chart represents the Superconscious mind of the native.

Interpretation

For example, the natal chart shows, Ascendant is at $3^{\circ}7'$, Mercury is at $2^{\circ}50'$ in In the D45 chart, Ascendant is at fifth Akshavedamsa of Gemini, so Mercury will move fifth from Sagittarius, Aries. Moon is at first Akshavedamsa of Pisces, so the moon goes to Sagittarius.

Common Inferences on D45

Planet Sun is the Karaka-natural Significator of this chart. Sun denotes Paternal chords, the Self and soul of the native.

Ascendant, 3rd house, 6th house, and 9th house are analyzed. Beneficial association between the lords of these houses and the planets occupying them indicates paternal relationship and thinking patterns of the native. Most benefic exaltation denotes great paternal legacy, also progressive and positive thinking.

Suppose the above-said houses are aspected by malefic planets. In that case, the native tends to have negative and criminal thoughts, resulting in poverty or losses and health disorders inherited through paternal lineage.

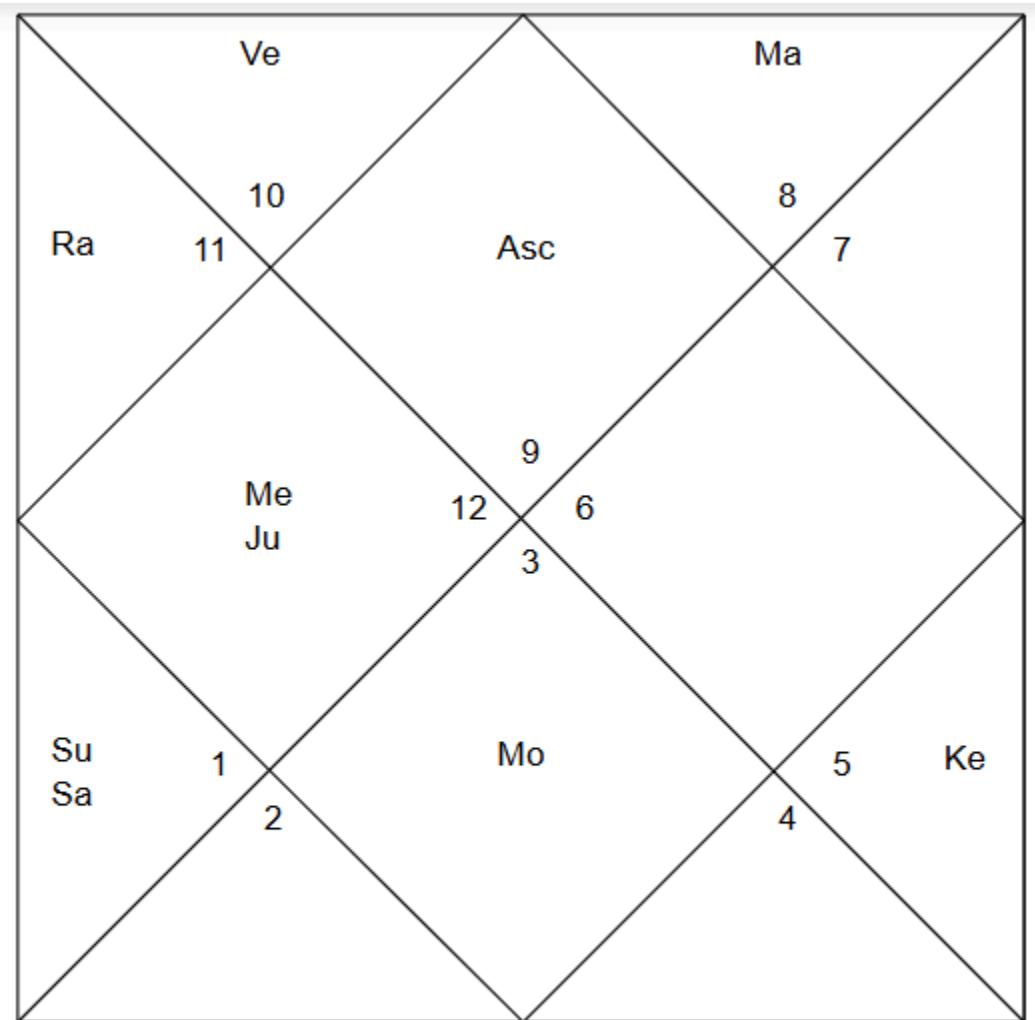

For example, mercury in retrograde or when associated with enemy planet makes the native think in a regressive, cruel way and lose father's love early in age.

4th and 5th house shows the mind, its superconscious layer, and past life experiences of the native.

Calculation

Sashtiamsa is 1/60th division of a sign; each Sashtiamsa is of 0degrees, 30' minutes. Each Sashtiamsa is assigned to a deity. Based on the nature of the deity/demigod assigned, there are Shuba Sashtiamsa and Kroora Sashtiamsas. Planets in Shuba Sashtiamsa give good results, and planets in kroora Sashtiamsa give malefic results. Madhya Sashtiamsas provide moderate results. The nomenclature of the deities is devised by Rishi Parasara.

To create a D60 chart, see the longitude of a planet in a sign, consider only the degree, multiply it by 2. Divide the resultant number by 12 and add 1 to the remainder. It will denote the sign where the planet will be placed in the D60 chart. The Lord of the resultant sign is the planet's Sashtiamsa dispositor. Here is a table on Sashtiamsa, deities, and degrees,

Purpose of the Shastiamsa Chart

Sashtiamsa chart is the critical differentiator in the case of predictions for twins. The birth charts and other D charts are mostly similar between them due to the closely placed time of birth. However, they are two different people with different life paths. This is where the D60 chart comes into play. The average time taken for an ascendant to traverse a Sashtiamsa is only 48 seconds. Thus, the smallest measure of time taken between twin birth is utilized in this chart; so, two charts will show different ascendant and different planets alignment in Sashtiamsa.

D60 chart shows a very detailed picture of past life karma – Sanchita Karma. It can help us determine the time when karma comes into fruition. The Sashtiamsa chart can go deep into the very cause of a native's re-birth reasons and lessons.

The karmic undercurrent of life situations and experiences associated with them are foreseen in this chart.

This chart is a microscopic version of the 12th house. This relates to the Supra-conscious mind of the native. This part of the mind holds higher significance in Self-identity, psycho-spiritual guidance, astral plane awareness, evolutionary memory.

Interpretation

In natal chart, Ascendant is at $17^{\circ} 41'$ in Capricorn and Moon is at $20^{\circ} 36'$ in Sagittarius.

Let's create a D60 chart,

Ascendant degree- $(17^{\circ} 41') \times 2 = 35^{\circ} 22'$

Dividing 35° by 12; remainder is 11, adding 1 to 11= 12, so we will count twelfth from Capricorn, which is Sagittarius.

For Moon, $20^{\circ} 36' \times 2 = 41^{\circ} 12'$

After dividing 41 by 12, remainder is 5, adding 1 to 5= 6, so we will count sixth from Sagittarius, which is Taurus.

Common Inferences on D60

Karma that is destined to face during one's lifetime and the reasons behind the karmic patterns is revealed in this chart. The actual strength of Planetary positions in the birth chart can be studied. For example, the planet in exaltation in the birth chart, but if located in inauspicious Sashtiamsa will bring bad effects in that direction of life and vice versa.

Good yogas in the D60 chart denote auspicious or good karma in a past life; bad yogas denote bad karma accumulated in a past life. This karma called Sanchita karma unfolds in this life.

If the lords of 3, 6, 8, 12 houses of the birth chart are exalted in D60, the native tends to waste the advantages of past life good karma.

The profession of a native can be predicted in the D60 chart based on the deity associated with the sashtiamsa.

When a benefic planet or lord of the benefic house falls in bad Sashtiamsa, the positive effect of that house is delayed or denied. Retrograde usually causes the delay, and the Period of delay is broken when retrograde benefic gains gain power over retrograde malefic.

When Venus, Jupiter, Mars, and Darakarka planet of the chart is free from any affliction, the native holds good karma from the past and enjoys happiness with fruitful events in this life.
